Our Heritage

James Galt is a company with a long history and rich heritage. Based near Manchester in Cheadle, Cheshire, England, we have over 180 years' experience in the educational and retail markets. James Galt set up business in 1836 in Manchester as a school bookseller. In 1848 he was granted a Royal Warrant by Queen Victoria. Over a period of years, the business continued to develop as an educational bookseller, stationer and publisher.

In 1949 the Educational Division was established to meet the growing demand for school supplies. In 1961 the Galt Toys Retail Division was formed in response to the demand from parents for good quality educational toys. The first Galt Toy Shop was opened in Great Marlborough Street, London and in 1966 a Royal Warrant was granted by HM Queen Elizabeth II.

Ambi Toys with their simple lines, imaginative features and purity of colour have stood the test of time. Many of these toys designed in the 70s and 80s by Patrick Rylands, an award winning British designer, are still in production today. Babies and toddlers are not interested in passing trends, fashion colours or the latest gadget. They need well designed and reliable toys which don't disappoint during play and encourage development. Ambi toys are still satisfying these needs and are a continuing source of learning and fun.
